The Rev. Mr. Pensecost Established Over Unity Congregation in Masonic Temple-Prenching the Brotherhood of Man.

The New York church that William T. Cronsdale of the Anti-Poverty Society and several other New Yorkers have been busy since iast fall collecting subscriptions to establish for the Rev. Hugh O. Peniecost was started in the Masonic Temple restorday morning, and Mr. Pentecost preached a sermon. He calls the church the Unity Congregation, and it is to be supported by voluntary contributions. To the 600 men and women who filled up the body of the ball ushers distributed circulars containing the plan of service and this announcement:

Unity congregation conditions its fellowship on no degmante tests, but welcomes all who wish to help establish truth, right coursess, and love in the world. Henry George came in early and took a seat

In the front pew, and J. B. Gibbs, the employment bureau man, came in late and leaned against the wall in the rear of the hall. Henry George was the only bald-headed man in the new congregation. A silver cornet and a big organ furnished the accompaniment for the congregation's singing.
Mr. Pentecost said that the three cardinal principles of the new church would be: 1, Think of yourselves, 2. Do right, 3. Love your fellow men.

A man recently said to me," said he, "' Why,

Think of yourselves. 2. Do right. 3. Love your fellow men.

"A man recently said to me," said he, "Why, you are not trying to make men Christians; you are simply trying to make men Christians; you are simply trying to make flom good! That's exactly what this new pulpit will try to de. The Roman Catholic, the Eniscopalian, the Jew the atheist, the agnostic, and the infidel will all be welcomed here, and respected if they are carpestly seeking after the truth. I do not care that any one here shall be a Christian or an infidel so much as I care that he shall be a good man. This pulpit will hold that every man has a right to think for himself in religion, politics, and social economics, and that no priest or minister or anybody else shall say to him. Thus far shalt thou go, and no further, in his bellef.

"I want to teach and preach the brother-hood of man as a live doctrine, applicable to the life of the present day, and make you live up to it. I want to teach that all men are alike in the sight of God. The Church teaches that as a doctrine, but it doesn't live up to it. Great as a doctrine, but it doesn't live up to it. Great applause.] Neither the country nor organized society lives up to the doctrine, either. Applause.] Neither the country nor organized society lives up to the doctrine, either. Applause.] He time was when the employer and the apprentice were equals. The omployer has cassed to be a person. He has become a corporation. The employer has ceased to be a man, and has become a 'hand.' This pulpit will preach that this is all wrong, and that the true road to earthly happiness is to do right to your fellow men, and make yourself as near like Jews Christ as you can. Applause.]

"Patriotism is made much of nowadays." The fact that a man is an American is glorifled by himself. Patriotism. It is living up to the ideal of the brotherhood of man." [Prolonged appliause.]

THE IRON PRISCILLA SOLD.

To be Made Into a Schoener-Commodere Canfield to Build a New Big Sloop.

Designer A. Cary Smith, who drew the lines of the big sloop Priscilla, has bought her from Commodore A. Cass Canfield of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club. She will be at once put into the yards and made into a schooner. She was built by Harian & Hollingsworth in 1885. Her length is 94 feet, and she will belong 1885. Her length is 94 feet, and she will belong to the same class as Mr. Burgess's Sachem, and, it is thought, will give her a lively race. The alterations will involve changes in her lines, which Mr. Smith is not yet prepared to divulge. Commodore Canfield will supply the place of the Priscilla with a 90-foot sloop of his own design. He has had her lines in mind for some time, and has only lattely put them on paper. Mr. Smith did not buy for himself, but further than to say that the owner of the new schooper than to say that the owner of the new schooper would be a New Yorker, he was allont on the question of her ownership. He is about to build a second-class sloop on order, which he hopes will prove no mean rival for the Titania.

Lucked at the Rooms and Supped Up the Jewelry.

Richard A. Harvey and his wife occupy a front room on the third floor of the house at 19 East Forty-fourth street. They went out to walk on the afternoon of Jan 3. Before starting Mrs. Harvey stripped off her rings and laid them on the bureau beside a pin that was there. When they returned, about 4% o'clock,

During their absence a man had come to the house and asked to look at rooms. There was a vacant room on the same floor as Mr. Harvey's, and the servant showed it to him. Afterward she took him into Mr. Harvey's room. The man asked the servant to show him how the folding bed worked. She did so, turning her back for a few moments to him. He went away, saying that he would come back at 4 c'olock for an answer about the room. He did not return. He was tall, dark, big, good looking, fashionably dressed, and wore a dark moustache. One of the stolen rings is a solitaire diamond. Another contains a sapphire, a ruby, and a diamond. The third was a plain wedding ring, without inscription. The pin was a gold clover leaf, with a single small diamond in the centre. The whole were valued at $550. During their absence a man had come to the

On the provious occusions he had alleged that the aums stolen were $9.40 and $8. Blum's counsel alleged that Mayer was vindictive because Blum had left his employ, and had taken customers along with him. The lawyer also said that the entire Brewers' Association was backing Mayer because Blum violated one of its laws when he took customers from one brewer to another. Justice Murray reserved his decision until Wednesday. Blum has begun a suit for $50,000 damages against Mayer.

A Scamp with Forged Theatre Tickets. Frank Granger, who says he is an actor. was arrested on Saturday night by Detective Sergeant Brunner at 412 West Twenty-third street, where he owes a month's board, on the charge of selling tickets to a performance which he had represented would be given at which he had represented would be given at the Star Theatre last night "for the benefit of the widow of John A. Greene." Of course, no such benefit was to be given, and Granger's statement that he had himself hired the Star Theatre was an equally preposterous lies. Granger had in his possession spurious tickets for the orchestra and family circles. The tickets were printed in Yonkers. Granger is also suspected of being a sueak thief. He was remanded at Jefferson Market yesterday morning.

OVERHEARD A BURGLAR'S PLOT. Detectives Looked on While the Burginry [was Committed-Three Prisoners.

Detective Sergeants McCarthy and Rogers saw John Francis, James Hogan, and William Drinkhouse enter Lyons's restaurant in the Bowery on Saturday night. McCarthy sat down at a table opposite them, and heard one say to the others: "If you have got the screws we can do that job in Thirteenth street to-The detectives concealed themselves in a doorway in Thirteenth street, near Third avenue, and at 2% o'clock yesterday morning the thieves came up. They waited until the policeman in Third avenue and the one in Thirteenth street had passed out of sight, and then they wrenched the padlock off Philip Haffner's tailor shop at 143 East Thirteenth street, opened the door with false keys, and locked themselves in. Haffner, who had been to a ball, came along, and stopped in front of his shop to see if everything was secure. The detectives did not know Haffner, and when they crossed over to see who he was he yelled "Police!" Policeman Bulger ran up, and explained to Haffner. Then McCarthy and Rogers told Bulger and the tailor about the thieves inside the store. They broke in the door, and found the three robbers hid in a closet. They had packed up $600 worth of clothing. The police took from them a set of burglars' tools. avenue, and at 2% o'clock yesterday morning

ALEX MCLEOD AGNEW, Secretaries. Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entalled more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind-one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and throughout the system satisacs every vision to breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and shariatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hither; untried method adopted by Dr. his passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneesing. neous in affording relief in all head colds, meeting, snuffling, and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste, and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease toward the lungs, liver, and kidneys.
